Pennsylvania passed the Freedom to Breastfeed Act in 2007, protecting a mother’s right to breastfeed her child in any location, public or private, where the mother and the child are otherwise authorized to be, regardless of whether the breast is covered during or incidental to the breastfeeding. Breastfeeding may not be considered a nuisance, obscenity or indecent exposure.

Pa. Breastfeeding Awareness and Support Program
1-800-986-BABY (2229)
www.health.state.pa.us/breastfeeding